

Terms & Conditions

This website is managed by WebOrchard on behalf of Beverley Cultural Network and 'Our Beverley' to provide local residents with information about cultural events, groups and organisations and to promote the cultural and heritage opportunities within Beverley.

Registering as a member allows you to:

- Add content (approval from the site managers may be required before it is published).
- Have access to additional site functions.

By creating an account, you agree that your account email can be used to occasionally contact you about:

- Your account and the content you have created
- Changes to OurBeverley.

Your account email is never shared or displayed.

The following terms and conditions must be observed when adding content to the OurBeverleywebsite:

When adding content:

- Users posting on the website are responsible for the accuracy of the content of their posts.
- Content may require approval from the site managers before it is published.
- Do not post content that is unlawful, libellous, offensive or abusive. It shall be at the sole discretion of the website managers as to what constitutes offensive material but this would include racist, sexist, homophobic and explicit content.
- Be civil, tasteful and polite. Do not swear.
- Do not publicise your, or anyone else's, personal information, such as home address.
- Only use photographs, text and documents that you hold the copyright for or which you have permission to use.

- Do not post the same message, or very similar messages, more than once (also called "spamming").
- Do not impersonate someone else.

Resources, services and activities advertised on OurBeverley are not endorsed by the site managers.

To maintain the accuracy and relevance of the site contents, the website managers retain the right to edit or remove any content, at their discretion and without warning. For example: Content will be removed that is deemed to be:

- Inaccurate/ misleading
- Out of date
- Does not meet these terms and conditions
- Does not fit within the aims of the site.

Infringement of these terms and conditions can lead to the removal of the user account.

Accounts that have been inactive for over 6 months may be removed at the site manager's discretion.